Americans Bomb Jap Positions in Kuriles

Shoot Down Five Enemy Planes in Raid on Islands

Liberators Strike Out 5,000 Miles in Sensational Raid

Lose Only Two Bombers, Navy Department Statement Says

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12 (AP)—Great Liberator bombers, striking over 5,000 miles along the northern coast of Tokyo, blasted Japanese defense positions in the Kurile Islands for the second time, the navy announced today, and shot down at least five of a group of forty enemy fighter planes which tried to prevent their attack.

Two of the nine army bombers which made the successful raid are missing, the navy's communique reported.

Japanese Worried

From the large number of fighters sent up by the Japanese it was evident that America's growing offensive strength in the North Pacific is giving the Japanese much more serious worry and causing the diversion of some enemy aerial forces to that strategic area.

This is one of the objectives of the over-all Pacific strategy which calls for hitting the enemy at several widely separated points in order to disperse his military power.

Location Kept Secret

No information was given out regarding the specific place or places attacked but the wording of the official announcement, which said "numerous hits were scored in the designated target areas," suggested that more than one base may have been raided. The only published enemy base in the North Pacific is on the northern end of Paramushiro which lies directly south of Russia's Kamchatka peninsula.

The Japanese had reported the attack several hours before the navy released the news. They claimed in a broadcast from Tokyo that the bombers had been repulsed.

May Soon Attack Kiska

Word of operations in the Aleutians, from which the American bombers took off for their long over-water operation, was still lacking. It has been fourteen days since any reported attacks were made on Kiska Island, the last enemy outpost west of the Kuriles in the North Pacific. Kiska apparently has been marked for invasion and the silence about activities in that area has given rise to considerable speculation here that conquest of the island may be imminent.

Milan Is Heavily Bombed by Allies

BERN, Friday, Aug. 13 (AP)—The Swiss telegraphic agency in a dispatch from the Italian border town of Chiasso reported today that Milan had been subjected to another intensive bombing that began at midnight and lasted until 1 a. m. today.

From the Swiss frontier, the explosions of big bombs could be heard and the glow of raging fires could be seen plainly in the sky over Milan, which is about twenty-five miles southeast of Chiasso.

United States Jungle Troops Closing In on Bairoka Harbor

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS in the Southwest Pacific, Friday, Aug. 13 (AP)—The advance of United States jungle troops, closing a trap on the encircled Japanese garrison at Bairoka harbor, on New Guinea, continues, the high command said today.

At the other end of the 750-mile battle area where the Allied objective is Salamaua, New Guinea, activity was limited to artillery exchanges.

All over the Solomons area, bad weather hindered air operations. But the reconnaissance planes, which kept aloft, fair weather or not, got in some blows northwest of Australia. Fuel fires so intense

GOOD FISHING

AN "EXPEDITION" in a fishing boat to the Egadi Islands, north of Trapani, Sicily, by Lt. Louis Testa (above) and Capt. R. E. Gerard of Lake Charles, La., led to the surrender of 1,027 Italian on the islands. When the officers reached one of the islands, the Italian officer in command surrendered to the Americans.

Ceiling Prices On the Way Out, Officials Say

Meat Expected To Be Lower within Two Months

BALTIMORE, Aug. 12 (AP)—Ceiling prices will be past history in two months, the president of the Maryland Meat Purveyors Association predicted today, adding that the meat market would then return almost to normal.

Leon Oppenheimer asserted, however, that the market, particularly in beef, would get worse before it gets better and that "it's practically at rock bottom now."

The meat wholesaler said that after the government ceased its present heavy demands on beef the market would crack. It probably will be soon, he added, because "I believe the government has almost all the beef it will need for some time."

He compared the meat and coffee markets, saying that when coffee was removed from the rationed list of foods, many persons stopped buying as much as they purchased under rationing. The same thing would happen with meat, he predicted.

"The public state of mind" with regard to meat will change, he asserted, just as it had about coffee.

Local wholesalers reported no easing of beef shortages during the past week and said that the butter situation in the state was "tight," because supplies had been cut to approximately fifty per cent of normal. They said indications were that butter would become ever more scarce before the supplies increased.

Oppenheimer also said there was a large quantity of cattle on the hoof, held back because of price ceilings. When the ceilings were removed, as he predicted they would be, these heavier than normal cattle as well as generous supplies of hogs will be marketed, he added.

Plant Explodes

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Aug. 12 (AP)—A grinding mill at the Fairchance Powder plant of the E. I. du Pont de Nemours company exploded tonight, shattering windows and shaking houses for some distance around.

Other heavy reconnaissance bombers attacked the isthmus on which Salamaua extends into the Huon gulf of Northeastern New Guinea. The jungle battle front in that area is five miles below Salamaua where skirmishing was reported in today's communique.

Attack and bombing planes were active above Salamaua and a sixty-ton cargo boat was sunk off Southern New Britain.

Russians Battle Nazi Troops in Kharkov Suburbs

Soviet Shock Forces Doom German Base to Early Capture

Germans Hurl Fresh Men into Action without Success

By EDWARD D. BALL

LONDON, Friday, Aug. 13 (AP)—Russian shock troops stormed through the suburbs of Kharkov yesterday to within five miles of the Ukraine metropolis from the north-east, while other columns in the south smashed into the strong-point of Chuguev where the Germans were in full retreat, a Moscow communique said today.

A Russian offensive against Kharkov—now in its eighth day—appeared on the verge of success as Nazi infantry retreated in disorder, leaving war materials and prisoners in Russian hands.

Capture of Chuguev indicated that Kharkov may soon fall to the Russians for although it is twenty-two miles from the city its capture in last winter's Russian offensive preceded the occupation of Kharkov. The Germans reoccupied the city and the surrounding area a month later.

Nazis Using Fresh Troops

The Russian midnight communique, recorded by the Soviet Monitor, said the Germans were making a bitter last stand defense in the Kharkov area and were even using battalions freshly arrived from Germany. Technical troops and engineering detachments were given rifles and sent into the front lines.

Although the escape corridor from Kharkov was only thirty-seven miles, the communique indicated that the Germans were preparing a fight to the finish, rather than a strategic retreat. But the fight was costly. Crack Russian guards divisions in two days fighting killed about 2,000 Germans, took 450 prisoners and destroyed thirty-six tanks in the Kharkov fighting.

Nazi Escape Menaced

The Germans had reported earlier that a large Russian shock force was organizing in the Chuguev area last week and capture of this town indicated the force was on the march, menacing the Nazi escape route from Kharkov's southern gates.

The Russian fighting rim, three-quarters of the way around Kharkov, moved in to take a total of more than twenty towns and villages and Red army troops captured 100 trucks and seventeen German tanks in good working order.

Meat Situation In Ocean City Declared Acute

Conditions Becoming Worse, Leo H. McCormick Declares

BALTIMORE, Aug. 12 (AP)—Leo H. McCormick, state director of the Office of Price Administration, termed the meat situation in Ocean City today as acute, and inspectors were sent there to make a special check of food conditions before the weekend crowd arrives.

Other inspectors were sent into the Middle River-Dundalk industrial area, he continued, to check reports that meat was at a premium.

One family in Ocean City, McCormick said he was told, was compelled to exist for a day on cheese sandwiches. Beer, he said, was selling at the resort for seventy-five cents a bottle.

"Ration books have been valueless because commodities can't be bought with them," McCormick said, explaining that the situation in Ocean City had been duplicated at times in stores in Hagerstown, Cumberland and elsewhere.

Yesterday he asked the regional OPA in New York and the local Food Distribution Administration to apply to Washington for increased shipments of rationed foods into the state.

"If the situation continues in Maryland," he said, "it will become very acute before winter sets in."

Churchill Visits Niagara Falls; Plans Kept Quiet

Date of Coming Conference with Roosevelt Not Revealed

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

QUEBEC, Aug. 12 (AP)—Britain's prime minister temporarily shifted his base of operations away from Quebec today, while British, Canadian, and an advance guard of American military men continued a review here of the master war strategy of the Allies.

Prime Minister Churchill and President Roosevelt will meet in Quebec later on for concentrated war discussions and a meeting of the British-American chiefs of staff.

Visits Niagara Falls

Churchill left here late last night and showed up this morning at Niagara Falls, where he viewed the scenic splendors of the giant cataract on the Canadian-American boundary. Then he boarded a special six-car train and left for an undisclosed destination.

The prime minister was accompanied by his daughter, Mary, and a large party.

Prime Minister W. L. MacKenzie King of Canada, with whom Churchill had been in consultation here for two days, remained in Quebec, along with the ranking military, naval and air advisers the two statesmen had brought along with them.

Stalin Not Asked To Send Envoys To Conference

Russian Participation Not "Suggested", Moscow Statement Asserts

LONDON, Friday, Aug. 13 (AP)—The Soviet government today answered criticism of the absence of Russian delegates to the forthcoming Roosevelt-Churchill conference at Quebec by saying that such Russian participation "was not and is not suggested."

"The Soviet government did not receive an invitation to be present at the meeting, and because of the character of the conference the participation of any one representative of the Soviet government at the meeting in Quebec is not suggested," said an official Moscow broadcast recorded by the Soviet Monitor.

President Roosevelt already had disclosed in Washington that Russian representatives would not attend the conference, but he said that he did not mean he would not be awfully glad to have them present.

Latest Moscow Statement

"The Tass news agency denies that Stalin or any representative of the Soviet government will participate at the forthcoming meeting between President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill."

He was unhurt, though anti-aircraft fire cut fifteen holes in his ship.

Flying 'Forts' Smash Rhineland And Ruhr Plants

Damage German Oil Refineries in Two Large Cities

Twenty-Five Fortresses Shot Down; German Losses Heavy

By JAMES M. LONG

LONDON, Friday, Aug. 13 (AP)—American Flying Fortresses smashed through heavy German defenses in the Ruhr and Rhineland yesterday to deliver daylight attacks on synthetic oil plants at Gelsenkirchen and Wesseling and industrial targets at Bonn, and new aerial attacks apparently were in progress over Northern Italy early today.

Switzerland announced air raid alarms in its territory bordering Italy, the usual first indication of a raid on Northern Italy from England.

At the same time German planes raided England for the second night dropping bombs in scattered points of East Anglia.

25 Fortresses Lost

Twenty-five of the four-engined craft were lost, but it was announced that they shot down at least twenty enemy fighters and that escorting Thunderbolts and Spitfires destroyed three more. Crews reported that targets in all three cities were left flaming.

The air offensive against the continent continued into the evening when a strong force of medium bombers, escorted by fighters, streaked across the channel in the direction of Cologne about 7 p. m.

RAF Fighters Active

RAF fighter planes were unusually active over the straits of Dover during the evening. Formations crossed and recrossed to Northern France for nearly two hours.

German fighter planes were encountered chiefly by the Fortress formations which pounded Gelsenkirchen, the battered oil refinery town twenty-seven miles west of Dortmund on the Duisburg-Hamm railway, but the Nazis threw up an explosive anti-aircraft umbrella over all three cities, a joint American and British communique said.

Clark Gable Leads Raid

In the lead plane over Gelsenkirchen was Capt. Clark Gable, the former movie star. He stood through the six-hour flight, shooting movies for a gunnery training film. He was unhurt, though anti-aircraft fire cut fifteen holes in his ship.

A German broadcast said the brunt of the attack fell on Bonn, birthplace of Beethoven, only fifteen miles southeast of much-bombarded Cologne. "They were intercepted and many heavy battles were (Continued on Page 5, Col. 3)

Maryland Soldier Hailed as Hero

Corporal Kelly Veteran of Much Service on Two Fronts

EMMITSBURG, Md., Aug. 12 (AP)—Corporal Ralph Kelly, Emmitsburg soldier whom AP Staff Correspondent Don Whitehead reported refused to leave his post at Trona, in Sicily, until all the riflemen were out, was with the first Allied troops which invaded North Africa last November.

Kelly has been fighting in the Mediterranean campaign ever since then except during two weeks he was in a hospital recovering from wounds received in the initial engagements.

He was sent overseas last July and trained in England before the African invasion, a sister, Miss Mamie Kelly, reported today. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kelly of Emmitsburg. They last heard from him on July 21, when he wrote from Sicily.

Miss Kelly said all of her brother's letters written home during the more than two years he had been overseas, were cheerful and optimistic.

"Even in the time he has been in the thick of the fighting, and even when he was wounded," his letters never complained about hardships, she said.

F.D.R. Promises Independence to Filipino People

Assures Them of Own Government when Japs Are Defeated

By D. HAROLD OLIVER

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12 (AP)—President Roosevelt tonight promised the Filipino people full independence from the United States "the moment the power of our Japanese enemies is destroyed" and said that such freedom would come quickly.

In a recorded radio address broadcast to the Philippines on the occasion of the forty-fifth anniversary of American occupation of the islands the President said fully:

Roosevelt's Promise

"I give the Filipino people my word that the republic of the Philippines will be established the moment the power of our Japanese enemies is destroyed. The Congress of the United States has acted to set up the independence of the Philippines. The time will come quickly when that goes into full effect.

"You will soon be redeemed from the Japanese yoke and you will be assisted in the full repair of the ravages caused by the war."

The Chief Executive's remarks were interpreted in Philippine circles here as countering Japanese Premier Tojo's reported pledge to the Japanese-occupied islands that they will be made an independent nation by the end of this year.

Would Advance Freedom

Joaquin M. Elizalde, Philippine resident commissioner in Washington, gave this meaning to the address. He also said it meant that the islands would not have to wait until July 4, 1946 for full freedom, as provided by the Tydings-McDuffie independence act, but that political independence would be "automatic" when the Japs are driven out.

"This would require amendatory legislation by the American congress, but Elizalde saw no difficulty there. Present law provides for full freedom after a transition period to prepare the island economically to become a republic.

Elizalde said Tojo's independence promise was being followed up by a commission in the Philippines (Continued on Page 5, Col. 4)

Italians Fired Upon by Fleeing Boche Soldiers

Nazis Seek To Save Guns and Supplies from Capture

Large Numbers Expected To Escape to Italian Mainland

By BELMAN MORIN

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, Aug. 12 (AP)—The bulk of German troops in Sicily are now in flight across the Messina strait to the Italian mainland under a merciless attack by Allied airmen braving a barrage from more than 500 anti-aircraft guns mounted on the escape beaches, front reports said tonight.

Leaving desperate rearguards and road demolition squads behind to slow the American and British armies converging on Messina, the Germans have a good chance to avert another Tunisian disaster because of the narrowness of the strait. It is only two miles wide at one point.

Germans Attack Italians

In addition to decreeing that the escaping troops must bring all possible equipment with them, the German command was said to have ordered that Italians be "ruthlessly" brushed aside and driven off the roads to clear a path for retreat to Messina.

The only exception to this rule were German-led Italian soldiers who still could be considered fighting units.

Other Italians were being fired on by the Nazis. Two prisoners taken near the East coast yesterday declared they had escaped death only by hiding in caves when the Germans began shooting at them.

Some Axis evacuation boats were plying from the Northern Sicilian coast as well as the eastern side.

Many Likely To Escape

The narrowness of the Messina strait makes it likely the Germans will save a considerable proportion of their divisions from annihilation. Terrain difficulties facing the Allies in their final push to Messina also makes that likely.

It appeared unlikely that the Germans could remove much equipment, however, through the Randazzo bottleneck. Daily Allied air raids are believed to have destroyed every building in the town and left the streets filled with rubble.

The right wing of the Nazi line was ensnared by the second American pincer movement initiated from the sea in three days, the left was slowly giving way under British pressure and the German central anchor at Randazzo had been brought under light artillery fire.

A dispatch from Noland Nordgaard, Associated Press staff correspondent who is attached to the British Eighth Army, said the German evacuation of the Messina bridgehead was in full swing, with at least eighty vessels ferrying men and equipment eastward across Messina strait night and day.

Retreat Closely Guarded

Axis anti-aircraft guns were declared massed in record strength in an effort to protect the vessels from Allied planes. The dispatch said the German high command, wishing to keep down the loss of equipment during the movement, had decreed that "the passport to Italy is a gun."

"The retreat was described in a Berlin broadcast by Capt. Ludwig Serterius, Nazi military commentator, as a 'systematic new disengagement movement by German and Italian troops.'"

"What matters," Ludwig said, "is to prevent the enemy from extending (Continued on Page 5, Col. 3)

Jones Says 43,000,000 May Face Shortage of Milk, Eggs, Poultry

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12 (AP)—Marvin Jones, war food administrator, was warned by organized dairymen and poultrymen of North-eastern states today that 43,000,000 consumers in that region face short supplies of fluid milk, eggs and poultry during the next twelve months unless the government takes steps to provide livestock feed.

Farmers in thirteen New England and Middle Atlantic states, who normally depend upon imports of corn and other feed products from the Mid-West to supply dairy herds and poultry flocks, are now unable to obtain supplies, the producers said, because government price policies discourage their shipment to the east.

This report was laid before Jones by a committee of the Northeastern Dairy Conference and the Northeastern Poultry Producers Council headed by J. A. McConnell, of Ithaca, N. Y., who also is chairman of the National Feed Industry Council, a governmental advisory group.

"The dairy and poultry groups also appealed to four national farm organizations for aid in getting the reported feed shortage corrected. The farm organizations are the National Grange, the American Farm Bureau Federation, the National Council of Farmer Cooperatives and the National Cooperative Milk Producers Federation.

"Two of the most important feed items, corn and protein feeds, are admittedly limited in supply," said the committee, "but due to price regulations even the limited quantities available have been almost (Continued on Page 5, Col. 3)

Allies Rapidly Forcing Axis To Change War Plans

Flight of Germans from Sicily Is Particularly Hard Blow

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

The war maps in Russia and Sicily were changing almost hour by hour last night—and for the better—as American, Canadian and British staffs pored over them in preparation for the Roosevelt-Churchill parleys to plan new attacks on Axis foes.

In Sicily a Nazi Dunkerque flight has started. Overnight another American sea-borne force leapt frogged Cape Orlando in the north to turn the planned Nazi defense front north of Mount Etna before it got set. To the south British troops advancing up the East coast found die-hard resistance but of limited scope, essentially a rear-guard situation.

Nazis Race to Rear
Another Nazi race to the rear was on, this time to a last-ditch position across the base of the tiny Messina peninsula covering the bomb-blasted escape route to the mainland.

It is from Russia however, that the news of greatest moment comes to the Allied planners gathering for a session of transcendent importance. It tells of a deadly Red army noose closing about Kharkov, and far to the west, of the right jaw of a huge red vise developing across the Kharkov-Poltava railroad and peering down on the vital Dnieper crossings.

Word of Kharkov's return to Russian control was to be expected at any moment. Flight or surrender faced its garrison as the escape corridor southward, the only route still open for retreat, dwindled in width. There were intimations, too, that the left prong of the Russian vise, bidding its time in Donets bridge-heads south of Kharkov, was about ready to roll ahead.

Whole Nazi Line in Danger
From both directions, north and northeast, Russian heavy forces are now within eighty miles or so of the Dnieper crossing at Dnieperpetrovsk. The whole Nazi line to the south in the Donets basin to the Sea of Azov is in danger of entrapment east of the river.

This is the third time the Russians have tried to spring that south-bend-of-the-Dnieper trap upon the invader. They narrowly failed before and this time are using more tremendous forces and operating over a far wider terrain than previously.

Success must mean virtual annihilation of from a quarter to a third of the whole huge Nazi army in the east. It would free the Caucasus and the Crimea of the foe at a stroke, or doom the Nazi troops there to the fate of those caught in the Stalingrad pocket, death or surrender.

Reds Going All-Out
The Russians are playing for their greatest stakes of the war in this summer campaign. They appear going all-out for decisive victory now, not merely battling for position.

And Russian representation, directly or indirectly, at the Roosevelt-Churchill staff meetings would be welcomed by the Allies. Definite knowledge of what the Russians plan or hope to do to exploit the resounding victories they have already recorded would be hardly less welcome and may be forthcoming.

Foster Mother For Pigs

RUTLEDGE, Tenn. (AP)—An old fox hound here proved its worth recently. After the hound lost her pups, she took over the remaining two pigs of a pig-eating sow, and nursed them to hoghood.

Mullins said he put two pigs in a crate on his back porch. Next morning, the fox hound had eaten a hole through the crate and was suckling the pigs.

Follows Her Dad's Footsteps

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Patricia Ann Murrian hasn't met her soldier daddy yet, but already they have a lot in common.

The father, Lt. John Murrian, Jr., serving in the Mediterranean area also was born while his dad was fighting as a lieutenant in the infantry against the Germans in France during World War I.

Jump Not Listed In Record Books

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Just how high a man can jump depends upon a criminal court jury's verdict.

A prosecutor testified he saw the defendant steal a brass valve from a storage lot, that he gave chase and that the defendant jumped the fence. The witness said further that he found the defendant on the other side of the fence.

The fence proved to be eight feet high, with three strands of barbed wire atop it, and the defense contended it was impossible for a man to jump that high. The defendant's attorney employed the Olympic record of six feet, seven and fifteen-sixteenths of an inch in proving his point.

Needless to say, the jury acquitted the defendant.

Soldier Saves Woman From Choking

KEESLER FIELD, Miss. (AP)—When a woman visitor got a fishbone lodged in her throat, Tech. Sgt. Paul Kosholek dashed for his toolbox, took a long thin pair of pliers, marched the girl to the light of a window and deftly extracted the bone.

No laryngologist, Kosholek said it was his first operation on anything more complicated than a linotype machine. He was a Stevens Point, Wis., linotype operator in civilian life.

That Rowboat's An Alligator

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—Two taxicab drivers riding down a suburban street of this winter resort at a late hour were startled by what looked like a small rowboat waddling down the pavement. They got out to investigate, and discovered it was a six-foot alligator, meandering along within a few blocks of some of the city's smartest hotels and apartment houses. They killed it in short order.

British Cut Tea Consumption

LONDON (AP)—Tea company officials report that Britons now are drinking only two-thirds of the amount of tea used before the war. The prewar figures were 457,000,000 pounds of tea a year, 9.58 pounds a person.

Judge Ends Quarrel Over Dish Washing

CHICAGO, Aug. 12 (AP)—William H. Boulton, appearing before Judge Francis Borelli today on a disorderly conduct charge made by his wife, explained:

"It all started over the dishes. I tried to get her to wash the pots and pans last because I wipe the dishes and when you wipe pots first they ruin the towels."

The judge dismissed the case. "Go home," he told Boulton. "You wash the dishes and let her wipe them." The Boultons smiled and departed, arm in arm.

War Correspondent Gets Draft Notice

BALTIMORE, Aug. 12 (AP)—Lawrence S. Williams, for one and a half years an accredited war correspondent, will be just another private after Monday—if he's lucky.

For the War department photographer, who landed in Ireland with the first A. E. F. in January, 1942, is due for induction the first of the week. And, despite his experiences with the army, he said today he was "afraid they'll put me in the navy."

Williams, former photographer and wirephoto operator for the Associated Press in Baltimore, was made a war correspondent when the United States entered the war. He was seventh on the list, which now includes more than 800.

After three months in Great Britain helping set up United States public relations system, he went to Newfoundland, Labrador, Greenland and Iceland. He was in San Francisco en route to Panama with the Air Transport command when his draft board notice caught up with him.

Williams has packed his war correspondent's uniform in mothballs, but he hopes to attend officers' candidate school if he's inducted into the army and not the seagoing branch of service.

Corn Shortage Broken In Chicago Market

By WILLIAM FERRIS

CHICAGO, Aug. 12 (AP)—A record-breaking spurge of corn selling by farmers this week has provided processors with enough grain to keep producing materials essential to the war effort until well into October, grain dealers asserted.

Cash handlers, swamped by the unparalleled marketings, said it appeared likely the corn shortage definitely had been broken, at least as far as processors were concerned. The 1943 crop will start moving in October, they said, and no repetition of last June's shut-downs should occur this year.

Processors were buying corn for delivery during the last week of September, indicating they had large stocks of the grain for near-term needs. The processors derive materials from corn which are used in the manufacture of steel, explosives, aluminum and other war goods.

Byrd Proposes Trial Of a Sales Tax

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12 (AP)—Senator Byrd (D-Va.) proposes a two-year trial of a sales tax.

Announcing that the committee on reduction of non-essential expenditures would begin hearings about September 1 on army and navy outlays, Byrd told reporters that he and other members are interested in both cutting expenses and raising additional taxes.

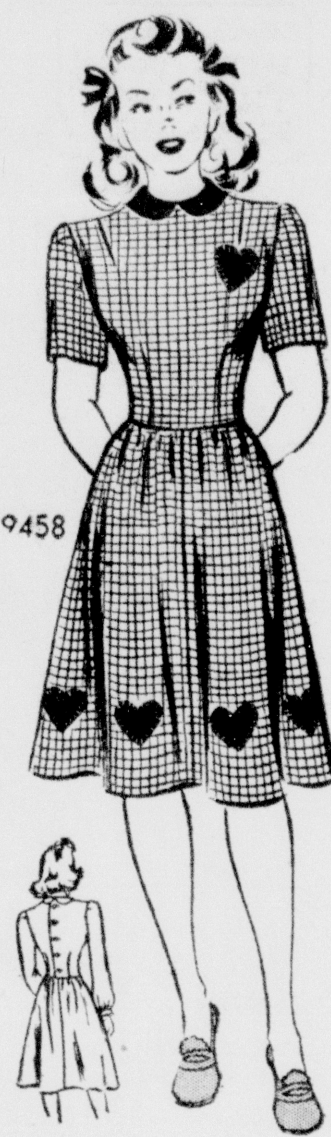

As a member of the Senate Finance committee, Byrd previously has proposed a retail sales tax, a move that has been opposed by the treasury. He said today he believed such revenue sources ought to be tapped at least on an experimental basis.

Found: One Prisoner

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., (AP)—Sheriff's deputies searching for an escaped workhouse prisoner, poked through a church they suspected as his hiding place. Inadvertently, one of them kicked a base fiddle case. Out popped the bedraggled fugitive, welcoming capture after twenty minutes inside the case in plus 90-degree weather.

Telephone Wedding Halted by Operator

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., Aug. 12 (AP)—Orders prevented Pfc. John C. Woomer of Pittsburgh from being here for his planned wedding with Pvt. Mildred E. Kautz of Huntingdon, Pa., who is in the WAC Motor Transport school.

So he arranged a telephone ceremony from Camp Wood, Tex.

"Do you take this man..." Pvt. Kautz heard the minister say over the phone.

She was just about to reply, "I do" when an operator broke in: "One dollar and eighty cents, please."

(P. S. — Pvt. Kautz slipped in the "I do," anyway.)

Rat Trapper Traps Himself Out of Job

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12 (AP)—Jim Young has trapped himself out of his job as official rat-catcher of the United States capitol. He got just too good.

Announcing the return of Young to his previous job as a janitor, Arthur E. Cook, assistant architect of the capitol, disclosed today that the capitol's war against rodents has been fought to a successful conclusion.

"We are getting only about two a week now," Cook revealed. "We have them whipped."

At the rate of two rats a week, Cook figured, there no longer was any percentage in using Young, a husky negro, exclusively as a $120-a-month rat-catcher. That figures out at close to $14 per rat.

Two Former Triumph Executives Jailed On Fraud Charges

BALTIMORE, Aug. 12 (AP) — Two former executives of Triumph Explosives, Inc., at Elkton, Md., were sentenced in federal court today to three year prison terms and fined substantial sums following their convictions on fraud charges.

Federal Judge W. Calvin Chesnut released Joseph Ben Decker, former vice-president of the firm, on continued $5,000 bond pending appeal. The judge said he would be disposed to probation of Gustav H. Koro, former president of Triumph, if Koro made restitution of the $42,000 he was charged with extracting from the corporation.

Decker, convicted of mail fraud and violation of the reorganization act, was sentenced to three years on the mail fraud charge and to one year and day on the second charge, the sentences to run concurrently. He was fined $1,000 in both cases.

Koro received a three year prison term and a fine of $5,000 following his conviction of mail fraud. Judge Chesnut previously granted him a new trial on the reorganization charges, of which he had been convicted.

ing his operations to objectives on the mainland.

Striving for the knockout, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's officers steadily threw in fresh units to replace battle-weary troops at the front in the light against numerically weaker German detachments which could obtain no such respite.

Yank Tank Troops Land

Tank-supported infantrymen of the United States Seventh Army, aided by American warships and warplanes, landed from assault boats three or four miles behind the German lines on Cape Orlando just before dawn Wednesday. They beat off three Nazi counterattacks and established a bridgehead just as they did earlier this week to outflank the San Agata-Cesaro defense line, it was disclosed today.

A fierce battle still is raging. A dispatch by Harold V. Boyle, Associated Press correspondent who accompanied the landing party, said the "leap-frogging" task force seized a number of prisoners and the main body of the Americans, striking frontally from the west, had closed the seven-mile gap and pocketed the garrison of the cape.

Spectacular Operations
This most spectacular of the land operations developed as American vanguards were believed to have advanced to within three miles of Randazzo, and the British, mopping up two more villages on the eastern slope of Mount Etna, moved up to within ten miles of the Axis supply port of Taormina.

Enemy transport, railways, roads and bridges were attacked by Allied aerial squadrons both in Sicily and Southern Italy yesterday and United States Flying Fortresses in strong force bombed the royal arms factory, gas works, workshops, rolling mills, railway trains and other targets at Terni, fifty miles north of Rome.

A headquarters statement said the damage at Terni was severe and, although Focke Wulfs, Messerschmitts and Macchis arose to challenge the Fortress formation, their attacks were not pressed home energetically. A Rome radio broadcast said there were 585 casualties.

Bombers, fighter-bombers and fighters sank four enemy vessels, knocked out twenty-one enemy trucks, battered barracks, fired a Milazzo ammunition dump, and attacked railways and bridges of both Sicily and Southern Italy, taking in Rosarno and Randazzo, Anzio and Catanzaro.

One of the raiders failed to return. Testifying to the general shyness of aerial opposition, gunners did not claim the destruction of a single enemy plane yesterday.

Orders left behind by the withdrawing Germans indicated that the first contingent of enemy troops began crossing the two-mile-wide strait late in July. Technical troops apparently were the first to give up Sicily, taking with them vehicles and other equipment.

Now, however, combat troops are being withdrawn steadily and even the rearwards left behind to fight delaying actions are being reduced in size.

German companies in the line are believed to have whittled down to platoon strength, battalions to company strength.

Military account of a battle in Sicily quoted another soldier as saying: "What about Kelly? There's a soldier for you. Ralph refused to leave his machine gun post until all the riflemen were out and he had no support himself."

Stalin Not Asked

dent Roosevelt and Mr. Churchill.

"The British Reuter agency, basing itself on the American radio station Columbia, reporting on the meeting now taking place in Quebec of Roosevelt and Churchill suggested that leaders of the Soviet government should be present. (The meeting actually has not occurred yet so far as is known.)

"On the other hand the British newspapers Daily Telegraph, Morning Post and Daily Express, and some others, published a report that the Soviet military attaché will be present at the Anglo-American talk as an observer.

"Tass is authorized to state that these reports are based on a misunderstanding. The Soviet government did not receive an invitation to be present at the meeting, and because of the character of the conference the participation of any one representative of the Soviet government at the meeting in Quebec was not and is not suggested."

Vital Strategy Session

The Soviet government thus took official cognizance of widespread comment in Allied countries on the lack of Russian representation at the Quebec conference.

British, American and Canadian military leaders already are in session in Quebec and the meeting generally is regarded as a vital strategy session preceding the unfolding of important war developments.

Both British and American newspapers have expressed concern over the absence of Stalin or other high Russian leaders. Axis capitals originally broadcast reports that Stalin was going to attend, then made much of the fact that he wasn't going to be present in order to suggest that all was not well in the United Nations' coalition.

Russians Battle

Poltava and Sumy, nearing the high-water mark of their offensive last February. They took towns sixty-five miles west of Kharkov but they were still thirty-seven miles southeast of Lebedin, the farthest point reached last winter.

Reds Bomb Poltava

Soviet bombers lent support to this drive by bombing Poltava, thirty-five miles south of the nearest Russian troops on Wednesday night, the Moscow radio said. Large fires were reported.

To the north, the Russians stormed to within twenty-five miles of Bryansk and six miles of Karachev, a railway point between Orel and Bryansk. Another column was only four and three-tenths miles east of Karachev. Seven hundred Germans were killed in the fighting here and fifteen guns destroyed.

Russian forces gained six to eight miles over-all in their Bryansk offensive, capturing more than 100 populated places, the communique said.

Fifty-six German tanks were wrecked in Wednesday's fighting while forty-eight German planes were brought down on all fronts.

Another Moscow broadcast announced that in the past twenty-two months 155,000 Germans were killed by the famed Russian guerrillas operating in small bands behind German lines. They derailed several hundred troop trains, disabled 269 tanks, destroyed 205 planes on the ground and captured nineteen German headquarters, the broadcast said.

German broadcasts admitted that Russian pressure in the Kharkov area was "appreciably increased" in the past twenty-four hours, but explained that by the German "elastic method" of defense "some piece of terrain is left to the enemy here and there since possession of it is not worth excessive sacrifices in view of the general operational situation."

Captain Ludwig Sertorius, Transocean military correspondent, in a Berlin radio broadcast recorded by the Associated Press, admitted that the fighting was "fluctuating"—a German term for losing ground.

But the fighting around Kharkov drew the spotlight in the Russian battlefront.

A great horseshoe encirclement had been clamped around the city of 800,000, Russia's third largest, with an escape opening of thirty-seven miles between Koyag and Zmiyev to the southwest. Only one of Kharkov's eight railways remained open and it appeared to have been disrupted and made untenable by a heavy Soviet bombing of Merfaya, a rail junction thirteen miles below the city.

The Russians said officially that the Germans had rushed up several tank divisions from their reserve and thrown them into the battle north and northwest of Kharkov, but that Russian forces were grinding these down and continuing their advance.

Flying 'Forts'

fought above the clouds," the broadcast said.

The triple raid by the precision bombers rounded out what less than two years ago would have been rated a series of heavy blows against the enemy but what now passes as just twenty-four hours of routine activity.

The RAF's heavy bombers rested last night after their previous night's 1,500-ton raid on Nuernberg, but Mosquito bombers continued their swift attacks against enemy targets in the Ruhr and Rhineland. At the same time other RAF forces were shooting up railroad targets in France and the lowlands and laying mines in enemy waters.

The Nazis retaliated during the night with their heaviest raid on England in several weeks, some twenty planes dumping bombs on an unidentified town on the South coast and killing eight persons. It was announced that 167 persons were killed in England by air raids during July.

completely removed from trade channels. Such shortages as result primarily from ill-advised price ceilings are a national matter."

The northeastern feed grain shortage for the coming year was estimated at 1,675,000 tons.

Corn is not moving from the Mid-West, the committee said, because of a government ceiling of $1.07 a bushel, Chicago basis, and a government floor of $1.375 per hundred pounds, Chicago basis, on hogs. This price relationship makes it possible, the committee said, for midwestern farmers to make more money feeding corn to hogs than by selling the grain.

The committee told Jones that if it were not for fairly good pastures at the present time, eastern dairy production would now be declining sharply.

This appeal for government action designed to start corn moving eastward again came at a time when the Food administration was studying proposals to allocate, and possibly ration, feeds among various classes of feeders, with cattle and poultry taking priority.

Churchill Visits

from Canadian officials was that military talks still were going on during Churchill's absence.

The time when the prime minister and Mr. Roosevelt will come to Quebec for war councils behind the walls of the city's famed old citadel cannot be disclosed.

The opinion prevails here that the sixth war parley of the two United Nations' statesmen will follow the lines of those in the past to the extent that it will be primarily an Anglo-American affair with the Canadians making it triangular whenever matters come up that particularly affect them.

Headquarters Guarded

Even though Churchill had departed from Quebec, soldiers and mounted police continued to patrol around the citadel, and the hotel Frontenac where the chiefs of staff hold forth, and to bar the entry of all persons without official business inside.

Girl Scouts Use Military Names

The local Girl Scouts, in keeping with the times, have gone military in choosing their units at Camp Cal-n-Cut-Cue, Laurel Hill, Pa. Staff members are being designated as WACS; the brownies as Marines; the two intermediate units as WAVES and SPARs and the senior unit as WAFs.

Last evening the SPARs entertained the WACS at a military ball and yesterday afternoon the WAVES reversed the order of the day, even to wearing their clothes backward.

Wednesday evening the Marines invited the WACS to a "backward party," when everything was in reverse order. It began with taps and refreshments, then games were played, there was folk dancing and the singing of the "Hello Song."

The Marines entertained the SPARs with a pajama party Monday evening.

Other activities included an "International Night" with members of the three other camps in the vicinity as guests. A pageant of the four freedoms was given after which the guests each sang their own favorite camp songs.

In the swimming exhibition, demonstrations of the different strokes and formations were given, including making a fountain and a V for victory in deep water. The Life Saving Corps gave a demonstration with Barbara Blake jumping in the pool with her clothes on and the corps rescuing her. A swimming race was won by Dolores May and Catherine Kelly. The children who came to camp unable to swim, demonstrated the "jelly fish float" and the "doggie paddle."

After a two weeks' schedule camp will close tomorrow. There were sixty-seven campers enrolled for each week.

CHAPTER THIRTY-ONE
THIS WAS a nice place to sit in the afternoon sun under the tall Australian pines; the lake was full of movement, little fishing boats coming in from their day's labor, like a white yacht bobbing up and down, and a rowing chair, on the choppy crest of its blue-green surface. The bridge was deserted, for the home-bound traffic was not yet unleashed. In a cloudless sky an airplane banked and circled, its drone the soothing sound of bees, practicing maneuvers.

She said the usual things about the war—how terrible it was, how unexpected, how everyone was now anxious to do his part, asking the usual questions. What did Marty think about it? Did he believe it would have to last very long? Was there any danger of the mainland being attacked? She did not ask, not so soon or so directly, what he was going to do about it.

She realized that she had done the talking; Martin had given the expected answers at expected intervals. It had come sooner than foreseen; it was a stab in the back; no one could predict how long it might last; he was not of the opinion that the mainland could be invaded, not by Japanese on the west coast, or Hitler on the east.

But he did not answer the important questions: what he, himself thought, what he was going to do. He did not add his usual discussion of war. He had said that she could talk, and that he would listen. That was about what it amounted to, Karen decided. If she wanted anything more from him, she would have to ask for that, too.

She said, "The reason we postponed our wedding until spring"—oh, surely it only was postponed for that short time—"was because Paul had immediately signed up with the Civil Air Patrol. He flies four hours at a time. He turned over his plane to the government, too."

"That's most commendable, considering the government will take all private planes and things like that million-dollar yacht anchored out there before this fracas is much farther along. And considering that this coast must be protected, as well as our other fronts that are more dangerous and farther removed from our shores. But of course he would do the right thing, your young man, if always a bit late doing it," he ended on a different tone, his teasing one, one that did not hold the slight irony in his first words that were contradicted by his last.

"He wasn't late in this!" Karen was angry at herself for defending Paul when he did not need it. Maybe she was so quick because she felt he needed it for other reasons. "And what Paul's doing is dangerous and important. He flies clear out over the ship lanes, not only looking for subs or signs of them, but keeping constant vigil over the freighters and convoys. He's reported oil slicks several times, where our boats have gone down. But I guess I'm not supposed to talk about that."

"I guess not," Martin agreed. He added, "You got me wrong, sister, if you thought I was underrating your sweetie. I am aware he is a swell guy and 100 percent American."

I only meant our country is going to need every man who can fly, and then some. I hold our own coast worth protecting, and even the smallest fishing barge as well as the ships being sunk faster than we can replace them. There are other methods of attack, from within, far graver than invasion and air raids."

He did not name them, but she knew he meant inner friction, strikes, sabotage, any and all forms of a fifth column. And she agreed with that, but still he had not said what part he meant to take. She said, "Paul may go into the regular Army. In fact, I know he will if he feels, later, that that is where he is most needed. That's another reason, the MAIN one, we thought it more sensible to not be married in a rush." Martin must be made to understand that the postponement had been mutual. Could Paul have asked for it, as Eva claimed, because he felt some doubt within himself?

"Much more sensible," Marty agreed, too solemnly. In that same tone he said almost the same thing Eva had said to Karen. "You don't know much about love, do you, Miss Fairfax?"

"I don't know what you mean. And you did promise not to keep on calling me names." Why was it he always could make her so angry, just as he always could right anger again instantly, as he did now, with his wide, engaging grin.

"If I break my promises to you," he said, "it's because you make me do it. I told you once that you made me do things I know I shouldn't. You are so lovely, Karen, that I keep forgetting you are such a sensible girl."

RHEUMATISM. Arthritis is a painful disease. It causes agony and misery. The cause, in general, is acid condition in the blood. The source of the cause often is mineral deficiency in the foods we eat. What is the remedy? . . . For thousands of years, people regarded MINERALS as the best remedy for Rheumatism, Arthritis, Neuralgia, as well as diseases of the Stomach, Bladder and Kidneys. From ancient Greece, Egypt, Rome, China and India, down to the present day, year after year, people rush to the MINERAL SPRINGS to get relief.

THE BEST doctors, the most intelligent people, millionaires and laymen, Kings and Princes when attacked by Rheumatism, Gall Stones, Stomach, Kidney or Bladder trouble, prefer to go to Mineral Springs. In America we have the wonder Mineral Springs in Georgia, patronized by thousands year after year. In France is the Lourve and Aix Les Bains, and in Greece the very famous Spring of Thessalon where, according to the legend, Hercules, the god of Strength and Youth, drank and bathed to rejuvenate; to be forever young.

Wonder Minerals

BIO-MINERAL is a combination of vitally important Minerals, blended by Nature for those suffering the agony of Rheumatism, Arthritis, Stomach and Kidney ailments. It comes from the depths of the earth—Nature's laboratory. It is NOT a Mineral Oil, physis or harmful drug. Contains NO alcohol—NO drugs—NO opiates—NO preservatives—NO oil. NOT A SINGLE habit-forming ingredient. ONLY Natural, Life-Giving Minerals—these same minerals of the world's best springs in highly concentrated liquid form.

THE IMPORTANCE of Minerals for the good of our health, is so widely recognized today, that Doctors, Hospitals, Sanatoriums, National and the Government, urge the use of them. The warning nations bolster the health of their armed forces with minerals. Bakers enrich their flour with minerals and advertise it. In the press, in schools, in colleges, in churches, on the radio, everywhere, the cry is: MINERALS! . . . MINERALS!

Try it at Our Expense

ORDINARY cathartics are habit forming and never cure constipation. They force out the foods and digestive juices from your stomach and do not correct the cause of your trouble. If you suffer from Constipation, Gas-Toxins, Bloating, Weak Kidneys, etc., try a bottle of BIO-MINERAL. After 3 or 4 days, when your own eyes you may see wonderful results. BIO-MINERAL is not a physis and does not interfere with the natural foods in your stomach. It reaches down to the root—to the cause of your trouble, eliminating abnormal waste material, cleaning and purifying intestines thoroughly.

WHEN the poisons are out of your system, when the kidneys are purified, when the gas-toxins and bloating no longer remain in your stomach to cause acid condition in the blood, then you begin to feel your Arthritis leaving you—your Rheumatism saying good-bye. Nature is assisted to complete the recovery. Wise people go to MINERAL SPRINGS, and BIO-MINERAL is Minerals that you get at the best Mineral Springs.

IMPORTANT: Use common sense. As long as this product is absolutely harmless, and it is sold on a MONEY-BACK GUARANTEE, there is no reason in the world for not giving it a trial. To pass it up, you may miss the best opportunity to better your health.

Leave My Heart

sible young lady. And when I said you didn't know much about love I meant a kind of love that you don't know anything about, although maybe it's just as well."

She supposed he meant the kind he himself must have suffered, since Karen still was of the opinion that that was all the mystery there was about him, that he had a lost love in his past. Hadn't he as much as said so himself when he had warned her to leave his heart alone? She supposed he meant the kind of love that hurt, bringing bitterness as well as joy, tears as well as laughter. Well, she was learning about that now, wasn't she?—thanks again to Eva. Or maybe he meant the kind that sent chills up and down your spine when you were kissed. But since she had learned about that from him she would not include it.

She said, "Of course you are—the only one who knows anything—about anyone." He claimed he knew all about her, and she was finding out she did not know herself, or

Paul, so that no one could know that much, ever.

He gave her his wide grin again. "I stand corrected, teacher. I beg your pardon, I mean, Karen, although why can't I call you something of my own, say Katy, or even K, since I'm not allowed the special privilege afforded your special B. F. as Buffy brought out when he said that Mr. Wyatt calls you his darling."

"Call me K, or even Katy, if you insist," Karen broke in, laughing in spite of herself, although that went to show she had been right in thinking it would help to talk with Marty, who could always get a laugh, if he could get other things like anger and annoyance. She thought Buffy a much safer topic so she said, "I promised Buffy he could go fishing with you some time. But it may have to wait awhile. He had a little upset. Nothing much." She would not want Martin to know about the airplane ride with Paul that had caused Buffy's illness. She must hold on to all the loyalty she had for Paul now, needing it to stifle any doubts.

"That's too bad," Marty said of the child's upset. "I'm glad it was not anything. He's such a game little chap. Not afraid of anything."

Karen was glad Marty thought as she did about that. Buffy's fear of places was well founded; it no longer existed, now that he had met it. She still felt sure that Martin would have found some other way, more like her own, than forcing Buffy to go up. On an impulse she said, "Since you didn't catch those fish, why don't you come home with me for dinner? Buffy would be delighted." It would be a delightful surprise for the boy. There were no guests for dinner this evening. No reason, that she could see, why she should not invite Martin.

He said, "Is that the only reason you ask me? To please Buffy—and because you're afraid I might go hungry?"

"Of course not. I'd like to have you, too. I'd like to have you meet my father—and Paul. No doubt he

DETROIT KEEPS UP WAR PACE DESPITE RIOTS AND SHORTAGES

MOTOR CAPITAL — This forest of towering skyscrapers has its roots in Detroit's tremendous automotive industry, which has been converted to production of war goods.

By ALBERT KAUFMAN
Central Press Correspondent

DETROIT, Mich. — Despite race rioting, wildcat strikes, housing ills and food shortages, Detroit continues to perform its wartime job with incredible results.

War production schedules have been met and are being met in the face of such overwhelming obstacles as loss of millions of man hours through accumulated labor-management grievances and domestic quarrels.

These are the facts as related by men who know the Detroit production figures, those entrusted with the job of supplying the implements of war to the men on our far-flung fighting fronts.

Recently, Alvan Macauley, president of the Automotive Council for War Production, and chairman of the board of the Packard Motor Car company, spoke at the annual meeting of the Automotive Council in Detroit.

He said: "In twelve months, our own industry's production has doubled. The army of workers in plants old and new is an army. Almost a million and a quarter men and women are now engaged in the battle of production in a thousand plants.

Beats Boom Times
"Our output is not only more than double that of a year ago, it is fully double the highest level of civilian production ever attained in this industry under the influence of a driving, booming market.

"The notable facts behind today's production levels are the ways in which almost incredible obstacles have been overcome. We have met them all somehow, with government's aid and sometimes without it.

Army and Navy departments have made production awards in the Detroit area by the hundreds but relatively few have failed to keep them, a survey of the Army Ordnance district office reveals.

A large share of Detroit's domestic problem is attributed to the acute housing problem and the resultant turnover in man power.

THE COMMUNITY BAKING CO.

To Maury Maverick, chief of the WPB's Government Requirement division, Detroit Mayor Edward Jeffries the other day pointed out: "Since Jan. 1, United States Employment Service figures show that 46,000 war workers have migrated to Detroit, nearly half of them bringing families.

Return to Homes
"But many have quit and gone back to their homes because they could not find housing for their families.

"The city's population has increased nearly 300,000 within the past three years but the percentage of food supplies to meet this influx has been below needs.

"Our transportation system has been strained to the breaking point, yet Detroit continues to get to and from its jobs."

He added: "When you consider all these factors, plus the fact that the city and its immediate area produces nearly one-sixth of the nation's war work, Detroit can well be proud of its war record and its title as the 'arsenal of democracy.'"

Military censorship prevents disclosure of Detroit's actual war production record, but ordinance officials and arms producers declare that work stoppages have hurt production only to the extent they have prevented factories from exceeding original quotas.

Tax relief legislation enacted for the benefit of servicemen by the various states this year includes a substantial number of measures covering the property tax field, the Federation of Tax Administrators reports.

Keep Perspiring Feet Dry and Sweet

Excessive perspiration often makes your feet uncomfortable — socks or stockings damp, as well as causing disagreeable foot odors. Try dusting your feet and shoes with Allen's Foot-Powder. Easy — quick — convenient. It acts to absorb excess perspiration and prevent odors. If you are breaking in a new pair of shoes or if you are wearing an ill-fitting tight pair, there's nothing like Allen's Foot-Powder to relieve the friction that makes feet feel so uncomfortable. For real foot comfort, be sure to ask for Allen's Foot-Powder today! At all drug stores.

Preaching Twins In the Service

MEMPHIS, Tenn., (P) — When twin sons were born to a minister some years ago he named them Paul and Silas after the Biblical characters and prayed that they would become preachers.

Today, Chaplain Silas Cooper, formerly a Baptist pastor in Birmingham, Ala., is stationed with the navy here. His brother is a chaplain in the army. The Rev. Silas Cooper says he felt the urge to become a minister while in college, and wrote home about his decision. The next day his brother did the same thing.

Neither brother had known of the other's decision.

Marine Sets Example For Motorists

CHARLESTON, W. Va., (P) — A Marine who wrote an apologetic letter to Municipal Judge Harold Neff and enclosed a $1 bill for overtime parking now has his money back and a note of appreciation from the jurist, "for setting an example for our own citizens."

Sergt. W. W. Halyman of the marine corps was en route to New River from San Diego, Cal., hospital after treatment of wounds received fighting the Japanese in the Solomons.

He wrote Judge Neff that "I am very sorry for this offense and I want to express appreciation for all of the courtesies shown me. I am guilty of overtime parking."

Argentina was discovered in 1516 by Spanish explorers headed by Juan Diaz de Solis.

GUTHRIE, Okla. (AP)—Things sure are dull at the Police Station these days.

That is the considered opinion of Police Chief Fred Streeter who says the most frequent complaint nowadays is from somebody wanting the police to quiet some neighbor's baby so somebody can get some sleep.

"I don't know of any way you can force a baby to quit crying," said the chief, "so we just hope the infant cries itself out within a reasonable time."

Soldiers Travel In a Circle

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—Corp. Elliott Trask and PFC Perley S. Hirtler left for the wars from the draft board's office in the Triad building over a year ago. Both recently were assigned as chauffeurs for headquarters district No. 2, Eighth Service Command and sent to the headquarters commanded by Col. B. P. Delamater—in the Triad building here.

TOP MAN OF THE BIG TOP

By CLAYTON IRWIN
AP Feature Writer

NEW YORK—One day in 1931, Charley Sparks closed the books on Sparks Brothers World Famous Circus, bringing great sighs of relief to an undetermined number of rival circus men.

"There," they said, "goes the toughest opposition in the business. You play a town ahead of his show, and everybody's waiting for Sparks. Play it after he's been there, and you find all the circus money has been soaked up."

With an adequate bankroll and a flock of rich memories, Sparks sold to Ringling Brothers the circus he had spent 40 years building and headed South with intent to spend the rest of his life as a hotel lobby-sitter.

Back to Work

But you can't cure an old circus man. Today, Sparks is back in the business, working for his ex-rivals, the Ringlings, as general manager of the streamlined, continental-type show "Spangles" which has settled down in New York for the summer.

His big top is the gilded ceiling of Madison Square Garden, and only his enthusiasm for this new style entertainment keeps him from being lonesome for the old canvas tents, the sidehows, and the spectacle of crowds milling over a dusty lot.

"In 40 years," the Ringling men say solemnly, "Charley Sparks never had any trouble on the lot, he never got mixed up with the law, he never had any fights and he never skipped any bills. If he advertised 20 elephants you could bet he had 20 elephants."

Avoided Fights

Sparks was born in Park City, Utah, and started in show business as a snare drummer in a musical act with his brother. By 1898, Sparks Brothers' "Australian Variety" was a vaudeville headliner, and two years later they pooled their money and organized their first wagon show.

Meet the home front heroes whose guns are rivet guns... whose hearts are as true as the ships they build! In a thunderbolt of thrills and romance... the men and women in America's shipyards prove that they, too, are fighting this war against the Axis!

Excitingly filmed by Columbia, "Good Luck Mr. Yates" now showing at the Embassy theater paying dramatic tribute to the two-fisted fighters who are building America's Victory! There's Claire Trevor... whose coveralls couldn't cover her woman's heart... or hide her loveliness! There's Jess Barker... a red-blooded guy some fools called "yellow!" And there's Edgar Buchanan... fighting leader in the home-front battle we must win!

Ray Enright directed the thrill film from a screen play by Lou Breslow and Adele Comandini.

Tex Ritter Stars In Garden Film

Tex Ritter is co-starred in "Deep in the Heart of Texas" with Johnny Mack Brown. Both have appeared in many Westerns and make an excellent team. Fuzzy Knight and Jennifer Holt are included in the cast.

The co-feature at the Garden is "Underground Agent," starring Frank Albertson, Bruce Bennett and Leslie Brooks.

Another chapter of "Smilin' Jack" rounds out the Garden program.

Hit Tunes Are Featured in Film

Biggest score ever lined up for a Columbia musical is an outstanding feature of "What's Buzzin' Cousin?" featuring Ann Miller, the ravishing dancer, laugh-getting Rochester, John Hubbard and Freddy Martin and His Orchestra, and now playing at the Maryland theater. Eleven top tunes were purchased from well known song writers.

Numbers are: "Mr. President" and "By Order of the Interceptor Command," by Walter Samuels and Saul Chaplin; "Three Little Mosquitoes," "In Grandpa's Beard" and "They're Counting" in the Mountains," by Charles Newman and Lew Pollack; "Where Am I Without You," "Ain't That Just Like a Man" and "Short, Fat and 4-F," by Don Raye and Gene De Paul, who have "Mr. Five-By-Five," the No. 1 song hit, to their credit; "Knocked Out Nocturne," by Jacques Press and Eddie Cher-kose; "Eighteen Seventy-Five," by Wally Anderson, and "Nevada," by Walter Donaldson and Mort Greene.

New Bedford, Mass., was once the world's leading whaling port.

"Sarong Girl," the Monogram musical comedy which opened all engagement at the Liberty theater last night, is composed of many ingredients which add up to really superlative entertainment. There are girls galore; there is plenty of catchy music, both vocal and instrumental; there is a highly amusing comedy story; there is an excellent cast, including a preponderance of comedians—and there is Ann Corio.

It was not without good reason that the luscious Miss Corio was known for a good many years as "the liveliest lady of burlesque." In the picture her natural charms are supplemented by an excellent performance in the starring role, furnishing definite promise of a successful career as a screen player. The cast also includes the noted comedy team of Tim and Irene (Ryan); the no-less-capable colored comedian, Manton Moreland; Bill Henry and Damian O'Flynn as the other two points of a romantic triangle with Miss Corio; Johnny "Scat" Davis to make music, at the head of his band and otherwise; Henry Kolker, Mary Gordon, Betty Blythe and other players.

Manpower Shortage Hits the Police

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Increased travel has added considerably to the duties of City Patrolman Albert Shelton.

Assigned to the Nashville bus terminal last October, Shelton has assumed the roles of one-man information bureau, guide, social worker, and unofficial bus dispatcher in addition to the duty of keeping a sharp lookout for pickpockets, purse-snatchers, drunks and other law violators.

Shelton says it's all in a day's work and he finds a lot of satisfaction in his busy career.

The Farmer In the Cemetery

RUTLEDGE, Tenn. (AP)—Claude Fennell heard his plow-bit grate against something that sounded funny. He "whoosh" his mules and kicked about the objects his plow had unearthed. He found a dozen skulls!

The farmer had plowed up a pre-historic Indian burying ground. The news scattered about the countryside and the curious came to claim some souvenirs. One fellow took a skull home, put it under his bed. That night he awakened suddenly, said he saw the skull rolling slightly, the eye sockets looking right at him. He placed the skull on a string in his smokehouse—and he doesn't go there by himself for anything.

Bottom Falls Out Of Furniture Sale

PONCA CITY, Okla. (AP)—The customer liked the bed all right but the furniture store's price was too high to suit him. The salesman suggested they sit down and figure the thing out. The customer sat down on the edge of the bed. The salesman also sat down. Down fell the bed with a loud clatter.

"No sale," said the customer, picking himself up.

Debit and Credit, Mostly Debit

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—It cost a lawyer here $10.95 to defend a man charged with assault and battery. The lawyer accepted a mule in payment of his fee. It cost $4 to transport the animal to the stockyards, and $11.95 for boarding it there thirteen days. The mule sold for $5.

Wrong Names, Right Guys

CAMP CLAIBORNE, La. (AP)—A rollcall at the three hundred and sixty-first engineer regiment here would sound like this:

HITLER? Here. GOEHRING? Here. DUCE? Here. The response would come from Corp. Turner G. Hitler, of Pocatello, Idaho; Corp. T. S. Goehring, of Pittsburgh, Pa., and Pfc. Hiram D. Duce, Jr., of Detroit. Name-conscious members of the regiment bemoan the loss of William Feuerer; he was transferred to another outfit.

Square Nickels Cause Change Crisis

CURACAO, Netherlands West Indies (AP)—Somebody forgot to say to American soldiers "Don't take any square nickels," and the soldiers took so many this Dutch island now has a shortage of its unique four-cornered five-cent piece. Nearly every United States soldier stationed here acquired a few of the coins as souvenirs. Some had bracelets made of them for their girl friends back home. Now, Curacao merchants seldom have nickels for making change. If they don't have enough pennies, they just don't give back any small change at all.

The Weak Sex

ALVA, Okla. (AP)—Mrs. Carl Mallon caught a ten-pound catfish and had hauled it almost to the bank when the line snapped. She leaped into the water, clamped a clasp on the catfish and brought it to shore.

Rudy York Hits Two More Homers As Tigers Win

Maintains Torrid August Home Run Pace; Hits Eight This Month

DETROIT, Aug. 12 (AP)—Big Rudy York maintained his torrid August home run pace today by belting two round-trippers, his twentieth and twenty-first of the season, as the Detroit Tigers made it two straight over the Washington Senators, 1 to 3.

York, whose eighteen homers in August, 1937, constituted a major league record, connected off Leroy Wynn and Rookie John Miller and drove in six runs. He now has seven homers in six games and a total of eight this month.

The Tigers tied off on three pitchers for fourteen hits. York's homer with Dick Wakefield ably in the first topped a three-run rally, but a run Pinky Higgins sent home in the third actually provided the winning margin. York got his second homer off Miller in the fourth with the bases loaded.

Wynn went down to his eighth defeat against a dozen victories, and little Hal White of the Tigers gained his fourth victory against eight defeats although he wasn't around at the finish. White had a three hit shutout going into the ninth when two walks and doubles by Jake Powell and pinch hitter Gene Moore produced three runs.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12 (AP)—The Senators beat the Tigers, 3 to 1, in a game that was a pitchers' duel. The Senators' pitcher, Hal White, pitched a complete game, allowing only one run, one hit and one walk. The Tigers' pitcher, Dick Wakefield, pitched six innings, allowing two runs, two hits and one walk.

DETROIT, Aug. 12 (AP)—The Detroit Tigers beat the Washington Senators, 1 to 3, in a game that was a pitchers' duel. Yankees Defeat St. Louis 6 to 2

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 12 (AP)—Bobo Newsom, trying for his first pitching victory in six starts with the St. Louis Browns, got two hits and drove in a run tonight but the New York Yankees won 6 to 2. Newsom was relieved in the eighth inning after walking in two Yankee runs.

PHILS WIN AGAIN

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 12 (AP)—The Philadelphia Phillies won their seventh straight game tonight by turning back the Pittsburgh Pirates, 4 to 3, before 10,684 at Shibe Park.

The soldier, PFC Arthur Bean, Cross, W. Va., and the Westernport boy both were arrested by Keyser police. Wilk said they took about $30 in cash from the Footen store and cigarettes and other articles from the S. and S. poolroom.

Service Teams Dominate Field For Tournament

Several Major Leaguers Will Take Part; 125,000 Fans Expected

By JOE DEGEORGE
WICHITA, Kas., Aug. 12 (AP)—Raymond (Hap) Dumont believes it's his turn now to point a finger at the skeptics and say "I told you so."

Months ago when other athletic organizations were folding because of man power and transportation problems, the Semi-Pro Baseball Congress president proclaimed: "Despite wartime conditions, I believe our program will continue to expand and will take a more prominent place in the baseball world."

Today he looked over the entry list for the 1943 National Semi-Pro Tournament, opening tomorrow night, and asserted, "there's the proof. This tournament will top all others, both in drawing power and in the quality of the teams."

He backed these golden words of optimism with the statement that the majority of the clubs competing this year are fan-attracting service teams built around major leaguers—and the fans are bearing him out by doing their ticket shopping early. Dumont predicted that about 125,000 persons would see the meet before it runs its more than two-weeks' course.

And if the customers are being lured to the park merely by the desire to see some of the big leaguers in action, they won't be disappointed. The early entry list indicates that the following big names will be present: Pete (Brooklyn) Reiser, now with Fort Riley, Kas.; Jimmie (St. Louis Cardinals) Brown, Memphis, Tenn.; Fourth Perrying Group; Cecil (Washington) Travis, Camp Wheeler, Ga.; Carl (Boston Braves) Rowell, Camp Sibert, Ala.; and Ken (Pittsburgh) Heintzelman, Fort Riley.

On a percentage basis alone, an army team is favored to emerge the winner. The entry list, Dumont said, is shaping up on a ratio of about three service clubs on two civilian teams.

The Electric Car Rolls Again

SHAWNEE, Okla. (AP)—An electric car—that quaint vehicle out of the automobile's Age of Innocence—is a great asset in these times of gasoline rationing, as everyone knows. When the old timer which had ferried J. W. Phillips about the streets sputtered its last, his friends thought it too valuable to retire of the dust and cobwebs of a storehouse. So 53 of them subscribed the money needed to get it running again.

TRY YOUR OWN SUIT
WHEN THE opponents bidding, plus your own holding, makes you suspect that your partner had opened the bidding with either a pure psychic or at least a badly shaded bid, it is often best to lead your own pretty fair suit against their No Trump contract, especially if you have only a singleton of his. When you hold something better than a trick in high cards, it is likely your partner would lack adequate re-entries to bring in his suit, in which the declarer has indicated he has no particular fears.

North led the spade 5, and thus helped the declarer, as this left him three entries to the dummy and eliminated any guess in the spade suit, the 10 falling to the A and a finesse against the J being virtually marked. It didn't take him long to plan. He saw four spade tricks and two in the red suits, plus maybe three or four in clubs. He scored the club top, led to the spade Q and sent a club to North. Unfortunately for North, the latter now chose the heart K instead of a diamond return. The A took this, a second club was given up to North, and game was now sure, as the spade finesse worked after the diamond A won the return.

Defense of this hand would have been easy if North had opened his heart K, and South's 2 on it had caused a sound switch to a diamond, either at once if the declarer ducked the first trick or later, when North first got the lead from either a club or a heart. That switch would have destroyed declarer's entire timing, and would have been virtually obligatory, instead of to a spade, when the spade Q was seen in dummy in addition to the stoppers proclaimed by West's bid of No Trumps.

STRAWBERRY LEAF SPOT

Leaf Diseases of Strawberries

By DEAN HALLIDAY
If you were troubled this season because the strawberry plants in your Victory garden had a spotted or scorched appearance, investigation may show them to be afflicted with either one of two diseases, both caused by fungi, strawberry leaf spot or strawberry scorch.

Both of these diseases are referred to as "leaf diseases," although leaf spot and scorch often occur on fruit stalks but they are most common and conspicuous on the leaves. Leaf spot, illustrated in the accompanying Garden-Graph is one of the most widely distributed and best-known diseases of strawberries. When the spots caused by the disease first appear they are of a reddish or purplish tint, but as they increase in size the center of each becomes paler and finally gray or almost white.

The spots are scattered irregularly over the surface of the leaf and often become so numerous as to cause the death of a large portion of the leaf and in extreme cases even of the plant.

Scorch is almost as common on strawberries as leaf spot, for which it may be mistaken in the early stages, when the spots or blotches, usually purplish in color, are irregular in outline, as illustrated, and vary in diameter from 1-2 to 1-5 of

Stock Leaders at Lower Levels In Day Marked by Dull Trading

By BERNARD S. O'HARA

NEW YORK, Aug. 12 (AP)—Trepid buying centered upon a few peace stocks in today's market but leaders generally neglected at moderately lower levels.

Persistently cheering war news served as a prop for special issues although there never was any sizeable demand for the majority of these. Many with bullish inclinations continued to hold aloof to await outcome of the Roosevelt-Churchill conferences and developments of many far-flung battle fronts.

The ticker tape dozed from the start. Transfer of 454,088 shares was the smallest for a full session since Oct. 19, 1942, and compared with 620,200 Wednesday.

Among the few wide advances was that of International Business Machines which jumped seven points to a 100-share transaction first since last Monday. Eastman Kodak was a gainer of 2 1/2 on a 200-share deal.

Yellow truck was up a shade most of the day as the acquisition of this company by General Motors, through an exchange of stock, proceeded. The truck shares, however, finished unchanged.

Improvement was retained by American Export Lines, Sears Roebuck, Deere, U. S. Gypsum, Electric Power & Light, and Air Reduction. Losers included U. S. Steel, Chrysler, General Motors, Santa Fe, N. Y. Central, Standard Oil (N.J.), Goodrich, U. S. Rubber, American Can, du Pont, J. C. Penney and Pepsi-Cola.

Among Curb laggards were American Cyanamid "B," Humble Oil, Colonial Airlines, N. J. Zinc and Aluminum of America. Fractions were retained by American Gas, Creole Petroleum, Brazilian Traction and Republic Aviation. Turnover here was 107,705 shares versus 155,230 yesterday.

The bond market lost its leadership when buying in the rails dried up and there was little disposition to bid for favorites in other groups.

Third War Loan
Drive Will Open
Here September 9

Sales Total $3,809,135 in
Two Previous Allegany-
Garrett Campaigns

Plans for the Third War Loan drive of the United States Treasury Department, which will begin Thursday, September 9, are now under way in Western Maryland with the announcement yesterday that Charles A. Piper, president of the Liberty Trust Company, has been appointed to conduct the campaign in Garrett and Allegany counties.

Piper handled the first and second war loan drives in the two counties and bond purchases totaling $3,809,135 were reported in the campaigns conducted in December, 1942, and April, 1943.

Quota is 15 Billion
The national quota for the Third War Loan drive is $15,000,000,000 and will include only sales of government securities to individuals, corporations, organizations, etc. No purchases by banks will be included in this campaign.

Hooper S. Miles, chairman of the executive committee of the Baltimore National Bank and treasurer of the State of Maryland, has been appointed chairman of the War Finance Committee for the State of Maryland.

Walter N. Ruth, former state administrator for the War Savings Committee, who has made several visits to Cumberland, will act in the capacity of executive manager for the Maryland War Finance Committee.

Plans Intensive Coverage
Piper, whose appointment as chairman for Allegany and Garrett counties was announced by Miles, pointed out yesterday that the coming campaign is the largest drive ever conducted in the history of the world, and added that plans are being made for an intensive coverage in the two Western Maryland counties under his jurisdiction.

Ever since the inauguration of the sale of war bonds Allegany and Garrett counties have had an enviable record in the various sales campaigns. While the quotas for the two counties has not as yet been announced, based on the national quota, it is expected that the local quotas will be considerably higher than in the previous campaigns.

Piper said that plans also are being made for the formation of a large and active force of volunteer workers to assist in the sale of the bonds. Details of the plans will be announced later.

In the First War Loan drive conducted in Allegany county last December sales of bonds amounted to $710,775 while in Garrett county a total of $29,500 worth of government securities were sold. No quotas were fixed for either county.

County Exceeds Quota
Allegany county purchased $2,934,018 worth of bonds in the Second War Loan campaign in April, exceeding the $2,240,400 quota by $693,618. Garrett county's quota was $2,373,500 and the sale totaled $1,448,442. The total amount of securities sold in the two counties in April was $3,068,860.

Cresaptown Volunteer
Firemen Will Begin
Drive for Funds

A drive to raise funds to meet the indebtedness on the hall and to purchase additional equipment was decided upon at the regular weekly meeting of the Cresaptown Volunteer Fire Department Tuesday night in the fire hall.

Chief H. A. Lasher stated that committees for the drive will be appointed Tuesday, August 17. He said that the firemen feel that the citizens of Cresaptown and vicinity should be willing to support the campaign in view of the service they gain at so little cost.

In these times when materials destroyed by fire are not easily replaced, additional protection is essential, he declared. Lasher also congratulated the Cresaptown residents on the presentation they have taken and the fine record they have had in keeping fires at a minimum for the past several months.

Howard Place
Structure Is Damaged by Fire

Firemen Answer Four
Calls; Shed on Humbird
Street Burns

Fire yesterday afternoon badly damaged a two-story frame structure at 330 Howard place. First floor of the building is used as a garage while the second floor is occupied by James Sanker.

The fire was one of four that kept local firemen on the go on Cumberland's hottest August day since 1930.

Both East Side and Central firemen responded to the Howard place alarm that was sounded at 12:57 p. m. The fire, they said, started on the first floor, burned through the second floor and then the roof.

Sanker's furniture was lost in the blaze although an automobile in the first floor garage was removed before it was damaged. Two children also were in the building but neighbors took them out.

Firemen fought the flames for an hour and twenty-five minutes.

At 6:25 p. m. yesterday South End firemen answered their third call of the day when they were summoned to 30 Humbird street where a small frame shed, owned by E. L. Belghol, caught fire. It was badly damaged.

Firemen blamed the blaze on boys playing with matches and said they used seventy-five gallons of water before the fire was extinguished.

The interior of the shed was filled with rubbish. Firemen were out on the call for almost an hour.

At 11:40 a. m. yesterday, South End firemen were called to a grass fire on Offutt street. At 3:40 p. m. they were summoned to another grass fire in back of St. Mary's church, Oldtown road.

Patient in Springfield
State Hospital Seeks
Court Hearing

In answer to a petition by letter from Luther W. Martin, Springfield State hospital, in which he demanded a court hearing, a writ of habeas corpus was issued in circuit court yesterday against Dr. Kenneth B. Jones, superintendent of the hospital.

And yet despite all these accomplishments, Rabbi Lefkowitz said, it was his wish that on his tombstone there be engraved a simple epitaph of three lines. Here lies buried Thomas Jefferson.

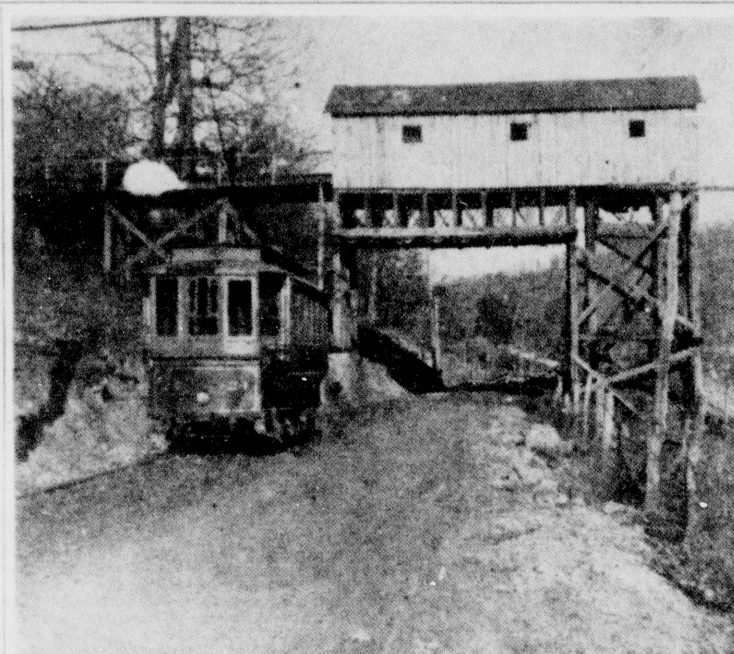

Author of the Declaration of Independence.
"Author of the Statute of Virginia for Religious Freedom."
"Father of the University of Virginia."

Embodies Principles of Democracy
The answer is apparent as we study his life, the speaker noted, because in this statement there is embodied the three essential principles of democracy.

First—Freedom of the body—as set forth in his Declaration of Independence. "We hold these truths to be self-evident that all men are created equal."

Second—Freedom of the soul—liberty of conscience as set forth in his statute for religious freedom.

Third—Freedom of the mind—as expressed in his fight for free yesterday were engaged in dismantling the tippie of the George's Creek and Moscow Mining Company which passes over the state highway at Barton after the Maryland State Roads Commission ruled it unsafe. This tippie, built forty years ago, is one of the two remaining structures which span the state highway in the George's Creek section, the other one being that of the A. P. Hoffa Coal Company at Nikep. The above photograph was taken in bygone days when C. and W. Transit Company operated trolley cars from Cumberland to West-ernport. Coal from the Pickell Big Vein and Bakers-town seams was conveyed from this tippie into C. & P. railroad cars on a siding to the right of the highway.

TIPPLE COMES DOWN—Workmen

Workmen Dismantle Pickell Mine
Tippie, George's Creek Landmark

Structure Erected 40 Years Ago, Removed after Being Declared Unsafe

One of the landmarks of the George's Creek boulevard—the coal tippie of the Moscow and George's Creek Coal Company, which passes over the state highway east of the town of Barton—will be just a memory within the next several days.

Built 40 Years Ago
Erected forty years ago, the tippie is now sagging of old age, and workmen yesterday started tearing it down after the Maryland State Roads Commission ruled that it was unsafe and a hazard to vehicular and pedestrian traffic.

The tippie, situated at the foot of the 1900 foot plane which leads to the ancient Pickell Hill mine, was in its heyday about twenty-five years ago and the big vein mine, as well as the Bakerstown small vein mine on the same property, was the scene of much activity during the first World War when hundreds of tons daily were loaded into C. & P. railroad cars and sent to market.

Several times during the forty-year history of the tippie, trips of cars got away on the steep incline when brakes failed to hold and in their wild descent they plunged pell mell through the structure and landed out in a nearby meadow.

On one occasion a car jumped the rails and landed on the state highway below.

Fire Raging 65 Years
Incidentally, the Pickell Hill mine mine fires burning in Allegany is the scene of a fire which has been raging underground for approximately sixty-five years. This fire has been burning through the coal seams in both Allegany and Garrett counties. It is one of four county at the present time—the others being at Vale Summit, Franklin Hill and Hampshire Hill.

Oldtimers relate that the blaze started when some miners built a fire to keep warm and failed to put it out when they quit work on a Saturday night. When they reported for work on Monday the mine was a raging inferno.

With the razing of the Pickell tippie there will be only one left spanning the state highway. It is the Hoffa Mining Company tippie at Nikep, owned by Arthur P. Hoffa, who is now serving his eighth term as mayor of Barton.

Local Woman Receives

Word from Son in Jap

Military Prison Camp

The first message she has had from him since the fall of the Philippines, Mrs. Margaret Settle, 165 Bedford street, received a postal card yesterday from her son, Pfc. Clarence A. Settle, who is in a Japanese military prison camp there.

Pvt. Settle's capture was announced by the War department last April.

He graduated from La Salle high school in 1940 and joined the army the same year. Sent to the Philippines in September, 1940, Pfc. Settle was stationed there at the outbreak of the war. His card reported that he is in good health and sends his regards to his friends and relatives.

Jefferson's Words Are Appropriate

Today, Rabbi Lefkowitz Declares

Says Principles of Democracy

Must Be Safeguarded

by Eternal Vigilance

universal education of all children of the land at the common expense of its citizens. This was carried out in his establishment in 1825 of the University of Virginia, the first tax supported university in America, of which Jefferson was its first rector.

This, Rabbi Lefkowitz said, was Jefferson's three-fold legacy to America.

The Declaration of Independence of 1776, guaranteeing equality to all men. The Virginia Statute of Religious Freedom of 1786, guaranteeing freedom of conscience and the establishment of the University of Virginia in 1825, guaranteeing universal education. This legacy established Jefferson as the architect of democracy, the speaker added.

Feared Tyranny
Jefferson feared one thing, the Rabbi asserted, it was tyranny exercised by people of authority over the mind of man. There is one final thought of Jefferson's of special significance to us today, engaged as we are in a world conflict to preserve democracy from the inroads of tyranny, the speaker said.

He added that Jefferson realized that the enactment of laws setting forth a philosophy of democracy is not enough, but that the principles of democracy must ever be safeguarded by eternal vigilance. Then it was, Rabbi Lefkowitz told Kiwanians that Jefferson made his famous statement, "The tree of liberty must be refreshed from time to time, by the blood of patriots and tyrants."

Causes of both fires were unknown.

Two other small forest fires have been reported since the beginning of the current dry season. Five tenths of an acre was burned near Pinto on August 2 and the same amount destroyed near Corriganville the latter part of July.

District Forester Johnson asks that people be unusually careful about doing anything in or near forest areas that might lead to a blaze.

Civil Service Board

Meets Monday To Plan

Police and Fire Tests

At the request of James Orr, police and fire commissioner, the Cumberland Civil Service Board will meet Monday, August 16, at 7:30 p. m., in city hall, to make arrangements for the holding of an examination of applicants for positions in the police and fire department.

In a letter to the board, Orr stated that the eligible list for both departments has dwindled to one man, due to replacements being made to fill vacancies caused by men joining the armed services and accepting other employment, and urged that qualifications be prepared and dates set for an examination as soon as possible.

The civil service board comprises C. Philip Jolley, chairman, Jesse W. Korns and H. Clifford Spiker. Samuel E. Grimmer, city clerk, is secretary to the board.

PEARL SIRBAUGH

A bill of complaint was also filed by Catherine Louise Nabors against Floyd W. Nabors. They were married in May 1939 and lived together until June, 1940, when Mrs. Nabors charges, her husband deserted her. No children were born of the marriage.

Mrs. Nabors asks a decree of absolute divorce and the right to resume use of her maiden name, Catherine Louise Sanner.

Nellie G. VanPelt filed a bill of complaint against James R. VanPelt but no details on the case were available.

Dry Weather Is Blamed for Four Forest Fires

Volunteer Firemen and Wardens Bring Blazes
under Control

After spending the past few weeks preparing his tinder, Old Sol has started his periodic bonfires, according to reports received yesterday in the district forester's office.

About half an acre of wooded land in Bowman's addition was destroyed by fire around noon yesterday, but two volunteer fire departments brought the blaze under control before it was able to spread to a larger area. Co-operating with the forestry department forces were the Bowman's Addition volunteer firemen, under the direction of Russell Robinson, and the Baltimore Pike volunteers, directed by Harold Valentine.

William H. Johnson, district forester, commended the volunteer departments on their response and efficiency.

Beginning about 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon and burning until about 8 last night, fire destroyed between twenty and twenty-five acres of woodland on top of a hill near the upper end of McCoolle in the direction of Westport.

Fighting constantly during the five-hour period, members of the McCoolle Volunteer Fire Department, led by W. H. Clark, two forest wardens from Luke and the Keyser Fire Department brought the flames under complete control and extinguished the blaze.

From the Cresaptown Fire Department came reports last night of a brush fire and a grass fire which occurred almost simultaneously yesterday afternoon. A brush fire at Pinehurst in Cresaptown was reported at 5:48 p. m. and was extinguished within about fifteen minutes.

The volunteer firemen were then called at 6:40 to assist the Celanese fire department in extinguishing a grass fire at the southern end of the plant near the railroad. It was brought under complete control by 7:30. The Cresaptown firemen were under the direction of Chief H. A. Lasher.

Causes of both fires were unknown.

Two other small forest fires have been reported since the beginning of the current dry season. Five tenths of an acre was burned near Pinto on August 2 and the same amount destroyed near Corriganville the latter part of July.
